PURPOSE

The ethical conduct of Registered Audiologists (RAUDs), Hearing Instrument Practitioners (RHIPs), and Speech-Language Pathologists (RSLPs) is one of the most important factors in the delivery of quality care and is one of the public’s primary expectations of health care professionals. Continued public trust in the self-regulated, speech and hearing health professions is dependent on individual registrants adhering to the values and ethical principles of the College of Speech and Hearing Health Professional of British Columbia (CSHBC). CSHBC Bylaws, standards of practice, and related clinical tools (e.g. clinical policies) are integrally linked to the principles of the CSHBC Registrant Code of Ethics. Registrants must adhere to, and not circumvent, the CSHBC Registrant Code of Ethics.

VALUES

Beneficence: Maximize benefits and minimize harm for the welfare of the client.

Client Autonomy: Understand and respect clients’ rights to make informed decisions based on their personal values and beliefs.

Fairness: Treat all individuals, clients, colleagues, and third parties without prejudice or discrimination in a just and equitable manner.

Integrity: Be truthful; behave with honour and decency while upholding the CSHBC standards of practice.
